

This Week's Service

Sunday, March 12th at 10:30 am
In-Person & streamed live from the sanctuary

Please join Worship Associate Gwen Taylor and Musician Sherrie Lemnios as Rev. Roger continues the exploration of the Sources of the Living tradition that we call Unitarian Universalism. We turn our attention this week to humanism: Humanistic teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and results of science, and warns us against idolatries of the mind and spirit. This is the foundational idea within our faith. Join us in our continuing quest for understanding.

From the Desk of Rev. Roger

The old joke is 'an atheist, a Christian and a Buddhist walk into a room and we UUs call it Sunday morning.'

That seems pretty accurate. The idea of Unitarian Universalism is to keep expanding the circle wider and wider.

We may have different metaphors and different pathways, but Unitarian Universalists agree on the importance of a humanist orientation.

So this Sunday we will explore together the UU source of our living tradition that says:

Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit...

To read more about humanism, check out the Skinner House Book: Sources of Our Faith, editor Kathleen Rolenz (Skinner House Books, order at the UUA Bookstore online or the kindle on Amazon). To read the humanist manifesto, check out <https://americanhumanist.org/what-is-humanism/manifesto1/>

Join us on Sunday. Reverend Roger will join us via Zoom. Come to the meetinghouse and let's explore together.
