

This Week's Service

Sunday, May 28th at 10:30 am
In-Person & streamed live from the sanctuary

Please join Worship Associate Lee Fallon and Musician Nancy Byrne for "Circle of Peace and Remembrance (and Picnic)", as we remember our loved ones on Memorial Day. During Joys and Sorrow attendees may bring a photo to be placed on our table with a short remembrance of that loved one. After the shortened service, please join us outdoors for a 15 minute Peace and Remembrance circle.

Following the service: Please join us for the picnic, RAIN or SHINE! We still could use a few more items. Sign up HERE

This month, a portion of all Sunday morning offerings will be donated to UU Storm Recovery, UUCOB's internal cause for local and/or regional UU members, friends and associated organizations facing challenges in storm recovery. If you are not able to attend the service in-person, you may contribute online HERE.

News & Notes

Programming Committee Survey
To all Members & Friends of UUCOB:
The Programming Committee holds monthly meetings where they brainstorm, create, and arrange for Sunday Service topics of interest to our UUCOB community. They are asking for everyone's help in filling out this important survey. You can do it online: <https://uucob.org/survey/> If you would rather use pen & paper, there are printed copies on the table along the side wall (by closet doors) in the sanctuary.

Annual Pledge Drive. Together We Thrive.
Please remember to make a pledge. Your financial support helps us to continue our mission: fostering wonder, creating connections, nurturing hope, and working for justice.

This year there is an easy to use online option to fill out your pledge form. And, if you choose to, you can even pay online with a credit card on the schedule you choose.
Fill out your pledge online HERE.

Or...pick up a Pledge Form in the back of the sanctuary.

From the Desk of Rev. Roger

In 1841, Theodore Parker, one of our Unitarian forebears, delivered a powerful and important sermon called "The Transient and Permanent in Christianity." It was an ordination sermon that endures as a powerful statement of our faith.

If you'd like to read it, check it out here: Theodore Parker Ordination Speech

It invites reflection on questions of what endures. What is it within liberal religious thought that is with us for the long haul.

What is common to both our Unitarian heritage in 1841 and our lived Unitarian Universalist faith today?

Many things of course. One that I'd like to lift up today is the idea that we are called in every age to test the spirits of the age. We must be a voice for reason, imagination, tolerance, freedom, and the liberation of all. In every age.

Right now, there are forces that would turn us toward an authoritarian way of life.

As long as the liberal religious tradition is alive, we are invited to stand against such authoritarian impulses and stand for democracy and freedom.

The voices on the right are getting stronger. Ours must remain steadfast and true.

Thank you for being a presence in North Carolina and the United States, UUCOB. Let's join our forces with others who share our values and continue to cry out for freedom and liberation.

On the Calendar
